BEYOND REDEMPTION SPACE CAPTAIN

The year is 2121, and humans have started to colonise the planets of the Orion sector. The Aldarans, an alien race that our ancestors once thought were angels, are now in a fragile truce with the people of Earth. Veteran starship captain, Lazlo, is charged with keeping the peace in the turbulent sector, but he has already suffered heavy losses to his crew. Also on board the Redemption is Alanah, a feisty teenager who was transported from the present through a time portal to the future where she must face the challenges of a new life in an unfamiliar world. The adventure begins when a cargo ship mysteriously explodes in a remote region of space. The crew of the Redemption go to investigate and find an alluring female cyborg. Before long an alien contagion starts to take over the minds of the crew and the race is on to find a cure and stop their ship from being destroyed as well .

Award Winning Local Movie

Beyond Redemption: Space Captain is a futuristic thriller set on the Starship Redemption. This offbeat and amusing movie would appeal to lovers of classic Sci-Fi, Star Trek, and Doctor Who. Two years in the making, it is the third feature film written and produced by independent film makers and Sci-Fi fanatics, Angel Studios. This Archerfield production house spends most of its time making commercial videos, music videos, and TV advertisements, but owner and director Paul Day also likes to dedicate much of his time to writing and producing independent films. The first, released in 2007 was Redemption 101, a tongue-in-cheek Sci-Fi feature revolving around Captain Lazlo and his quirky crew aboard the starship Redemption. The second, which premiered at the Gold Coast Film Festival in 2012, was Beyond Redemption (The Visitor) a standalone prequel to the first film, and Alanah's acting debut. The third movie, Space Captain takes Lazlo and Alanah on another adventure. Paul Day won Best Director in the 2013 ASIN (Australian Screen Industry Network) awards for Space Captain. The movie also took out ASIN awards for Best Actress (Abigail Jayne), Best Actor (Craig Ingham), Best Producer (Katrina Maffey) and was runner up for Best Screenplay.
